

Project Management Professional (PMP®) Preparation and Guidance Program

A growing number of companies recognize and seek the project management foundation, skills, and knowledge of an individual who has achieved the Project Management Professional (PMP®) certification. This credential, offered by the Project Management Institute (PMI), is the most globally recognized credential in the field of project management. Your attainment of this credential demonstrates your years of project management experience and training, your promise to upholding project management ethical standards, your commitment to continuous learning and your application of project management standards.

Many companies and organizations have recognized the importance of PMP® certification for their project managers. However, the certification process can be daunting, especially organizations already handling too many high-priority initiatives.

Let TenStep guide your people through the process of applying, preparing, and taking the PMP® examination - ultimately, to help each person achieve their PMP® credential! We can help your people by providing the following services for each of your PMP® candidates.

- Providing an overview of the entire process
- Assisting with the online application, including helping your people document their training and experience
- Confirming your people meet the qualification criteria
- Making your people aware of all critical dates
- Helping find and register for PMP® Preparation classes (optional)
- Providing a standard set of PMP® questions and answers for further study
- Establishing internal study groups and facilitating the first meeting (if you have multiple people applying at the same time)
- Publicizing new PMPs® within your company
- Providing follow-up guidance for anyone that does not pass the test the first time

The application and exam process is detailed and rigorous. TenStep will help take the burden off your organization and guide your people through this process. When you utilize TenStep for your PMP® preparation, you receive assistance from TenStep staff members who are skilled in project management and have obtained their PMP® credentials.

Contact us today for more information.

TenStep - we help you raise the bar!

Want to learn more? Contact us for further details.

info@TenStep.com

770.795.9097